SIMPLE DESIGNS + NATURAL MATERIALS = A REVOLUTIONARY PRODUCT

What do you get when you cross a painter, a woodworker, and a photographer?

Booked, a new line of wooden photo albums, specialty books and cards, all designed to make you rethink what stationery products should be made of. Instead of searching for the finest handmade papers, these women are patrolling lumberyards. They spend their time working in a cloud of sawdust to produce simple, yet strikingly beautiful designs that will have you scrambling around your house searching for photos to put in your book.

Their bestseller, a palm tree set against a bright painted background, has struck a chord with vacationers, honeymooners and beach house owners. In addition to the always popular baby and wedding albums, their line also includes more whimsical designs. Need a photo album for your dog? How about your margarita party? If you can think of an occasion, they probably have a book for it.

The products appeal to all of your senses – the delicious colors are beautiful to look at, the lightly sanded covers are wonderful to touch, the wood smells great, and even the clacking sound of a closing book will make you smile. Each book is painted and constructed individually, so no two are alike. Inside, the books contain 24 pages of acid-free paper and can be ordered with or without lined pages. A small packet of simple photo corners is included if you choose the unlined paper. All books are available 6” x 9” with select 9” square or scrapbook size designs.

The cards, a single piece of wood painted to become art, also feature simple designs for various occasions. And you can write on them just as you would a piece of paper. The cards are 4 1/2” square and come with a 5” paper envelope.

Also, a gift set containing a 12” X 12” book, a 6” X 9” guest book and a card can be ordered in three different themes. Products range in retail price from $7.50 to $120. Visit www.bookedstore.com to find a retailer near you.
